Carpenter Opens House

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carpenter seen above represent almost 40 years of service to the Glades. The picture was taken Sunday afternoon at Milton Carpenters Open House for his spacious new offices at 135 S.E. Ave. C. Milton's father, Dan, started an insurance and real estate office in Pahokee in 1935. Milton came to work with his father in 1950 and grew up with the business. He opened his own office in Belle Glade in 1965 and has grown from there. He is the largest independent insurance agent in the Glades. He said he wanted to build his offices nicer than normal so that the Glades could be proud of the building in which he is housed. Lunch and assorted snacks were served to more than 50 people at the Open House.

'Waste of Time'—Grear

Belle Glade in Sunshine?

Belle Glade City Commissioner William Grear said Wednesday the Florida Government in the Sunshine law had been violated in the past when mayors had been chosen.

He said he did not help elect the mayor Tuesday because he had not been contacted in advance.

Aubrey Farmer was re-elected mayor and Bill Bailey was named vice mayor during the city commission's annual re-organizational meeting at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Farmer, Bailey and newly elected Tom Altman were the only commissioners present at the meeting. Commissioner Ralph Kirk arrived shortly after the meeting closed, and when he was told the results said,

"Good, that's the way it was supposed to be."

Kirk said he had forgotten about the meeting and thought of it only when it was too late to make it on time.

Grear said Wednesday morning he still hadn't heard the results of the re-organizational meeting.

"I hadn't been contacted by any of the other commissioners," Grear said, "and I thought it was a waste of time to go so I didn't bother."

"Usually," he said, "at least since I've been on the board, one or two of the commissioners would contact the others and talk about what they were going to do."

Asked if he didn't think such a procedure was a violation, in spirit, if not in wording, of the state Government in the Sunshine Law, Grear said he did, "But that's the way it's been handled in the past."

The Herald was unable to contact any of the other commissioners Wednesday morning except Mayor Farmer.

"I haven't been in contact with any of the other commissioners except one of the other commissioners called me the other night to see if I'd talked to Mr. Grear," Farmer said.

"I tried several times to call Mr. Grear but couldn't reach him," he said. "But the only thing I said was that I would vote for anyone the other commissioners wanted to elect cause I sure was wanting to get on the sideline."

According to the state Government in the Sunshine Law, it is illegal for two or more city commissioners to meet in secret to discuss city business.

The commissioners also: Reappointed Vera Jones as the city treasurer and John Eker as the city attorney, Robert Matthews as municipal judge and John H. Trotter, Dan Hayes and Henry P. Rufolo as the city's judges ad littera.

South Bay Pushes Suit

The City of South Bay hired a consulting engineer Tuesday night to give aid in the city's pending lawsuit against former consulting engineers Robert Owas and Associates.

The suit is coming about as a result of problems the city has been having with its new sewer system ever since the system was installed. The warranty is running out on the system and the City Attorney Allyn Everard said the city must move rapidly to be successful in making sure the shortcomings are corrected.

Everard introduced Robert H. Fowler to the commission. He said he had worked with Fowler in connection with other municipalities and said Fowler isn't connected with anyone involved in the pending legal action.

At Everard's suggestion, the city retained Fowler at the rate of $35 per hour and 15 cents a mile travel expense and authorized Fowler to approach Owas and Associates to get copies of the plans and specifications for the system.

Fowler minced no words with the commission when he said he doesn't know what will be involved in his investigation but said, "It could be very expensive."

"I can't begin to tell you what it's going to cost but I wouldn't want you to write me a blank check," Fowler said, and suggested he be allowed to study the plans and the system and report back to the commission on estimated costs to continue the study.

Everard said most of Fowler's fees would be recoverable should the city win the lawsuit. He also said a suggestion from the audience that the city may be required by law to advertise for bids, since the estimate will probably be more than $1,000, was a "delaying tactic."

Everard said that so far as the federal government is concerned, South Bay is the owner of the system and must move rapidly and, "I'm responsible for keeping the city out of trouble."

When Fowler asked what the city's problem is with the sewer, Commissioner Neal Mayo, who heads up the water and sewer departments, quickly responded.

Mayo said the system's lines are being flooded with infiltration water, faulty equipment had been installed poorly and, "the plant is working almost to capacity now with only about 300 people hooked up. What's it going to be like when everyone is hooked up?"

The city commission also moved to hold public hearings to adopt a tax millage increase from the 7.256 certified by Palm Beach County Tax Assessor David Reid to the 9.256 mill the city assessed last year.

The millage would remain the same but, because Reid re-evaluated property in the Glades during the past year, the actual revenue would increase.

The commission is required by law to hold two public hearings, with a decision coming at the time of the second hearing. By a new state law, should the commission fail to adopt the millage at the second hearing, it would have to start all over again.

Tank Victims Services Held

Funeral services were held Wednesday for two small boys who drowned a week ago in a septic tank behind an apartment complex at 229 S.W. Ave. B.

Services were held at 3 p.m. at New Bethel Baptist Church for Isaac Lee Williams, 5, the son of Mrs. Renna Williams of 300 N.W. 11th St., Lot 9, and Jessie Vereen, 3, the son of Mrs. Eunice Vereen of 227 S.W. Sixth St.

Meanwhile, Belle Glade City Attorney John Baker said he had been approached by an attorney representing one or both mothers in connection with a possible lawsuit against Progressive Citizens, Inc., the corporation which owns the apartment building.

The police department referred the attorney to Baker, when the attorney asked to see the official police report on the incident.

Belle Glade Police Sgt. William King said a report was received at 6:45 p.m. Sept. 25 that the two boys had been missing since 3:30 p.m. and while police were searching for the, a citizen reported at 7:08 p.m. he had found a baby bottle near the open septic tank.

King said he went to the scene and fished the body of the first child out of the tank minutes later, shortly afterward finding and recovering the second body.

King said the mothers were at the scene and he dispatched an officer, Cliff Cooper, to escort them to the hospital and care for them until they returned to their home.

Fish Fry Fun

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce treated its members to a free fish fry Sunday afternoon at the Belle Glade Marina. Over 250 members and their families were served at the 2nd Annual Merchants Appreciation Fish Fry.

Alcohol Rehabilitation is 'in' South Bay

By Jerome Turk & Edw. Walsh

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30, 1974—For 24 times, house, the "Galloway Plan" had the patriot faction at this first continental Congress backed against the war. Patriot ranks fought desperately to prevent a stunning defeat at the hands of the loyalists. (cont. to p1)

The drunk tank is out. Alcohol rehabilitation is in.

December 31 will mark the last day anyone in the state can be arrested for public drunkenness. A center being opened Monday in South Bay is designed to take up the slack, according to William H. King, the program director.

The Glades Alcohol Rehabilitation Center will be a halfway house designed to treat alcoholics and those under the influence of alcohol.

Located on SW 11th St. in South Bay, King received a resolution Tuesday night endorsing the clinic from the South Bay City Commission. He said the center will be located in South Bay but will serve the entire Glades area. He intends to ask for similar endorsements from Belle Glade and Pahokee.

King emphasized he wasn't asking for funds from the city commission, that he simply wanted their support for the facility. It will eventually be a 20-bed in-patient primary care center open 24-hours a day.

"After Jan. 1, 1975," he said, "I will be mandated by law to accept any inebriates brought to me by your chief-of-police, just as he will be mandated by law to deliver them to me."

King said he was giving up his former practice as director of the county-wide Institute of Alcohol and Alcohol Abuse to take over the Glades center, "because I believed it was important."

He said the Glades clinic is receiving $201,000 from the National Institute of Alcohol and Alcohol Abuse and is asking for another $50,000 from the Palm Beach County Mental Health Center.

It was the mental health center which advised King to locate the half-way house in South Bay, "because they thought it would be more welcome here than elsewhere."

King said he intends to work with Glades General Hospital and state doctors in rehabilitation of alcoholics and, in extreme cases, will transport the victims to the coast to more complete facilities.

He said part of the program is to encourage patients, when possible, to live as normal a life as they can and hold down a regular job to help pay for their own treatment.

There will be two ways for patients to be admitted to the center, voluntarily and by commitments.

He said the law which prohibits police officers from arresting persons for public drunkenness also provides for a judge committing that person to a rehabilitation center.

"By the way, Madam Mayor,"

King told Mayor Vernita Cox, "I don't know if you are aware of it but you were chosen chairman of the Alcohol Rehabilitation Advisory Committee in your absence and I recommend you appoint the Police Chief to act for you in your absences."

King said as a sidelight later that, "I hate to let people know I'm a psychologist because they think I'm a doctor and want me to treat them. You don't know how many people get sick in the middle of the night and think of a psychologist and say, 'Hey, he was a pretty nice guy,' and call him."

Wife's Hobby Brings Surgeon

Because Molly Orduña has a green thumb and likes the Glades, Belle Glade now has what has been described as "the best surgeon I've ever seen."

Dr. Caesar Orduña (spelled with a "llide" as the name is pronounced Orduña) is the newest addition to the Grady Medical Clinic on South Main Street, beginning his practice Sept. 16.

"We'd been through the Glades before," Dr. Orduña said, "and my wife and I liked it here before we thought about moving to the area."

He said it was his wife's love of green, growing things which was the deciding factor but he said he had been looking for a chance to transfer his practice from Chicago to Illinois before contacting Dr. John Grady, who had been looking for a surgeon to complement his clinic.

"Dr. Grady was looking for a surgeon," Orduña said, "and I was looking for another practice. We both wrote to the Riker Medical Service and we wrote each other."

"He had some of the most fantastic letters of recommendation I've ever seen," Grady said of Orduña. "Some of them said, 'He's the best surgeon I've ever seen and we hate to lose him.'"

"Frankly," Grady said, "when I looked at this credentials, I never thought he'd consider coming to Belle Glade."

Grady said one thing that he thought made a difference, and Orduña nodded concurrence, was the fact Grady is running for political office.

"It helps when you become known as a candidate," Grady said, "and you can let other doctors know your ideals are the same as theirs."

Orduña said he had been practicing for the past year in Illinois and before that, he had spent six years in Virginia and Harlan, Ky., serving in large referral hospitals in the Appalachian area.

Born in Manila in the Philippine Islands, Orduña said he finished his internship and surgical training in Waterbury, Conn. and his surgical internship in Pitts-bury, Pa. and Harlan, Ky. He said he'd been in surgery for the past 12-13 years and is certified by the American Board of Surgery. "I understand there's only one other surgeon in the area certified."

He said he and his family (he and his wife, Molly, have five children), wanted to try the good living in Florida.

Part of that good living came last weekend when he took his children fishing. "The kids liked that," he said, "and I enjoyed myself but we didn't catch anything."

"He hasn't been in the area long enough to learn where the good fishing holes are," Grady laughed. "He'll have to get someone to show him around the fishing grounds."

Orduña said he will be practicing in both Everglades Memorial Hospital and Glades General but said he hasn't yet performed surgery in either.

He agreed with Dr. Ahmend Barhoush, another recent addition to the Grady Clinic, who said Belle Glade still needs an internist and a pediatrician.

In the meantime, there may be a few raised eyebrows at the new answer at 906-6088. Instead of "Dr. Grady's office," it's now "Doctors Grady, Barhoush and Orduña."

It Can't Be

When Jerry Thomas had his day in the Glades last week, he fired a double-barrel blast at the state's "major newspapers," saying they have shielded Gov. Reubin Askew's record and are giving the incumbent more coverage.

We can't really answer those charges since the Herald is neither a major daily nor do we have a Tallahassee correspondent.

But this might be a good time to comment on the charges, especially since we're moving into National Newspaper Week beginning Oct. 6.

We've long taken the stand the major task of a newspaper in a free society is to keep its readership informed on all the news, not a part of the news. This is especially important during an election year because the voters on any level of government can only vote intelligently when they're informed.

One of the worrisome problems of a democracy or republic is that the electorate must work to make the government work. Voters must be informed if there's going to be a government "of the people and by the people."

Thomas commented that a lot of voters, when they go to the polls Nov. 5, will vote for Askew but couldn't tell anyone why. That's unfortunately true but a lot of people will also probably vote for Thomas or American Party candidate J.P. Revels without knowing why. Many voters simply don't take the time to inform themselves of the issues and how the candidates feel about the issues. It's a lot easier to vote for someone because he has a clean profile and a boyish grin than it seems like a "nice guy."

It takes work to keep informed. The voter has to put a little of himself into the process, and the newspaper has to put out an even greater effort to make the information available.

If a newspaper, or broadcasting station falls down on the job by shielding one of the candidates, or by failing to give accurate, fair accounts of what each of the candidates say and what their records are, the newsman has failed.

But if the newsman gathers the information and make it available to the voter, and the voter fails to use that information, the voter has failed.

"If a nation expects to be both ignorant and free," Thomas Jefferson once said, "it expects what never was and never will be."

The Tallest Jail

Jerry Thomas did strike at least one definite chord of response with us, however, combining the news of the closing of the state's prisons and the $42 million boondoggle known as the new state capital.

"If I'm elected and have my way," Thomas said, "you'll have the tallest jail in the country right there in Tallahassee."

Amen, Brother Jerry!

The gubernatorial candidate said Thursday night at his testimonial dinner he had been asked by one reporter what his prison reform platform is.

"Build more prisons," he replied.

That may be an oversimplified answer but it's a step in the right direction and we doubt if he'd get an argument from Glades Correctional Institution Superintendent Al Cook.

"Population is our biggest single problem," Cook told a group at GCI two weeks ago when famed prison reformer Dr. Karl Menninger visited the local prison.

In the local prison, built to house no more than 525 prisoners, and that's an "emergency" figure given during a survey several years ago, has been hovering at the seams for the past several years with an average of 620 prisoners.

Statewide, the Florida Division of Corrections, with facilities to house 9,000 prisoners, has been overcrowded with 11,000 throughout the system.

"At our present rate of population growth, Florida will have almost 16,500 inmates by 1980," according to an August report made to the governor. "They will require (at today's prices) about $250 million in new facilities above and beyond those already authorized by the legislature."

Jerry has the right idea. Let 'em go ahead and build that $42 million monstrosity in Tallahassee—provided they can put a 22-story building on those warped foundations.

Then if he has trouble using it as a state jail, maybe the citizens of Florida can be prodded out of their collective lethargy long enough to get the same job done under the initiative process.

Maybe we could even get the governor to be the first to sign the petition.

Preventive Medicine

"Why should freedom of speech and freedom of the press be allowed? Why should a government which is doing what it believes to be right allow itself to be criticized? It would not allow opposition by lethal weapons. Ideas are much more fatal things than guns. Why should any man be allowed to buy a printing press and disseminate pernicious opinion calculated to embarrass the government?" - Nikolai Lenin

GCI to Present Arts Show

Dear Friend:

Prison and correctional institutions are usually a source of bad news about riots and disturbances; they are also the target of many critics. Today, the members of the Spanish Reality Group, wish to bring you good news.

Prison is no longer a place where men are sent to twirl their fingers until their "time" is up. This institution, particularly, is a place of action where the men are taught to work, offered an opportunity to educate themselves, learn a trade, and find God. Talent is plentiful here, curious enough, and the desire to be worthy to ourselves and to others is efficiently promoted by our Reality Group program. Next week a few of these men have prepared and will present an Arts and Crafts show to the community. This show is for the benefit of the victims of the hurricane "Fifi".

Do come to the show and browse around, meet these men, our correctional officers, our reverend, and have a snack from the "goodies" donated by our food service department and Mrs. Caturis, the Spanish teacher, and the group of ladies she represents. Above all look at a great assemblage of art and help us to help the people of Honduras. IS REHABILITATION AT WORK! Sincerely yours: A.F. Cook Superintendent Ellen Williams, Ph.D.

I've spent the last two weeks in Pahokee getting to know the folks up there a little better. They are nice people just like all of you in Belle Glade—I don't see why that two towns couldn't get along a little better if everybody got to know one another.

There are lots of things the two cities could combine on which would make the Glades a better place to live. Of course, they have been hashed over and hashed and there is still enough animosity to keep them from getting off the ground.

But one day there are going to be enough people in each city willing to bury the hatchet and work together. And when that day comes a lot of people are going to be surprised at how well they get along with people from the "other" city.

The Chamber had its second annual Merchants' Appreciation Fish Fry Sunday and once again it was one of the nicest family type outings of the year. And while there were about 40 per cent more this year than last, there still wasn't the response to it there should be.

Approximately 250 people were served between noon and 4 p.m. You can't beat the price—it was all free. And there were no sales pitches—no speeches. Just a real nice time.

Charlie Goodlett and his cooking crew did the usual fantastic job. The catfish and hushpuppies were the best. GCI chipped in with three huge pans of baked beans that Ben Clarke spilled all over his truck. He also managed to rip out the transmission—but that's to be expected by someone from Georgia. Actually, it was quite a busy weekend for the Chamber. Saturday night was the winners being treated to dinner by the losers in the annual membership drive.

The idea for the dinner originally started out as a "steak and beans" dinner. The losing team in the membership drive would have to sit there and eat beans while the winners ate steak purchased by the losing team. But there are too many

"The job of the newspaper is to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable." - F.P. Dunne (Mr. Dooley) gourmets in the Chamber for anyone to eat just beans. So everybody dined on delicious steaks.

It was a busy weekend for lots of people in Belle Glade. Milton Carpenter held the grand opening for his new building.

And it isn't your run of the mill office building in Belle Glade either. Milton went out of his way to add a few extra frills which distinguish the building.

It is too bad other businesses in the area think only about cost of building rather than what the building is going to look like. An exception being the B.D. Cole building right next door to the Herald.

While I have only been here a little over two years I have seen the Carpenter agency grow by leaps and bounds. One of the boys was a new son-in-law Thomas Russell who fitted into the business as if he had been born to it.

Carpenter has "come a long way, baby" and he should be congratulated for bringing such a first rate facility and a first rate service to Belle Glade.

Reaction to last week's column on the ticket have been many. I was trying to fix Ben Clarke's truck the other day when Dolly and Homer Hand drove up.

When Homer found out what I was trying to do he shouted for all to hear, "How do you expect Laney to fix a truck when he can't even fix a traffic ticket?" Thanks Homer—how come you can't be nice and sweet like that wife of yours.

Another friend stopped by to tell me my column had worked. She had received a ticket. Sixty in a 35 zone. Way to go, and I won't mention her name. Just follow court news and it will come up sooner or later!

Enough, enough! The people in Pahokee are real nice. But it's good to get back home. See you next week.

This is for the Thinking Man

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

I just couldn't resist it. I was walking through Best Buy Drugs the other day, shopping for a few sundry items to keep me healthy...if not wealthy and wise, when I saw a picture of a pig with the moustache I've seen since Bobby Riggs was in his prime.

The porker was on the cover of an "awfully arrogant after-shave" called naturally, Male Chauvinist, and included a scientific chauvinist test for the prospective customer.

For the benefit of you/uns (and I use you/uns to keep from the repetition of y'all) who may have doubt about your MCQ (Male Chauvinist Quotient), I'm making up a crib sheet rat cheer.

1. A woman's opinion is as good as mine. It just isn't as right.

2. A man's work is from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done.

3. If a man makes $500 per month at his job, a woman on the same job should make coffee.

4. There is room for an aggressive woman in the roller derby (the answer isn't North Dakota because there are men there too).

5. The one thing a woman should never touch is a steering wheel.

(That last one reminds me of a man I knew in Jacksonville who said he wouldn't take his wife for a ride in his new car because the first thing you know, she'd be wanting to ride in the front seat with him. Can't say I blame him.)

At any rate, if you score high enough, Cosmo, who manufactures the foo-foo water for the intelligent, right-thinking man, says "You are the genuine article! You should will your brain to science and your hide to the National Football League. Sir, we salute you."

Needless to say, I had a perfect score. The stuff smells pretty good too.

When Jerry Thomas was in town the other day, he delivered a sockdologer of a speech at the testimonial dinner held for him at the country club.

What's a sockdologer? Thought you'd never ask.

According to Webster's Seventh Collegiate Dictionary (always go to the source) a sockdologer is "1. something that settles a matter; a decisive blow or answer; FINISHER 2: something outstanding or exceptional."

"Sockdologer" is also the name of a booklet Jerry is using as part of his campaign literature. Means the same thing and it refers to an event concerning Davy Crockett while the ol' Tennessee coon grinner-downer was a member of Congress.

The story in the booklet may have even been true. I don't know. But it's sure as death and taxes made sense.

The thrust of it was concerning a bill introduced in Congress to appropriate $10,000 for the relief of a naval officer's widow and Crockett opposed the whole idea when a number of other Congressmen supported it.

Crockett based his argument on the idea that the U.S. Constitution had made no provisions in it to allow Congress to use taxpayers' money on charity, no matter how worthy the cause.

Besides the constitutional question, Crockett argued the country owed neither the officer nor his widow anything and the if it had been any other widow of a person who had fought for his country, no one would have introduced the bill.

The man who would eventually die in the Alamo then said he was the poorest man in Congress but if the lady was really in bad straits, he would offer a week's pay, then asked the other members to do the same. No one did.

But the important lesson was the constitutional one. There is not a single place in the Constitution which authorizes Congress to use national funds to relieve charity cases.

It was true when Davy Crockett was a Congressman and it's true today.

But I'd sure like to see the reaction, both in Congress and around the country if a national leader took that stance today. Can you imagine the screaming you'd get from the National Welfare Rights Association?

One thing I didn't know about Jerry Thomas until the other day and maybe it explains why I've sorta liked him since the first time I met him.

Walter Duthie, a former Palm Beach County School Board Chairman who was traveling with him said Jerry, his wife Jean and his running mate, Mike Thompson, are all native Floridians.

Nobody who can lay claim to the title of Crockett can be all bad. Matter of fact, if part of gives an edge on the cats who don't believe.

And no one who saw how Jerry and Walter were chowing down on some of Les Berryhill's corn on the cob of the field could possibly doubt they have some country ways, even if they have grown up and gone to the city.

'Express Yourself'

It's high time to stop criticizing all of the young people and start giving praises to those who are working for Christ. This is the message of the Church Youth Department Director Maude Vereen.

On Sept. 22, the young people of the church invited Mrs. Jessie Jenkins, dean of girls at Glades Central High School, to speak to them.

"His message, 'Switching Off and Switching On,' was so impressive," Mrs. Vereen said; "that we hope to have it published later that other parents and youth will benefit from our experience."

"At 6 p.m. that same day," she said, "what started out to be a one-hour service lasted for two and a half hours because everyone got so involved with the theme, 'Express Yourself.'"

Mrs. Vereen said Ollie Davis was the moderator and he asked someone to get started but before the session was closed, they had covered life in general, the church, the home, the community and the school.

"We hope that this will be an inspiration to others to join (the young people)," she said.

Mrs. Vereen extended an invitation to all the young people in the community to take part in future sessions at the church.

"We hope to have our own train and see where it is going and where it will stop," she asked. "We invite you to hear this Thursday night (tonight) at 7:30 and worship with our young people."

She said the service will be held by the Rev. G. Bruce from Gainesville. The church is located at Southwest 10th Street and Southwest Avenue C.

Presbyterian Church Host for Workshop

Everglades Presbyterian Church of Belle Glade

host this Tuesday for a District Workshop of the Women of the Church.

Presbyterian Districts 6 and 7 of Everglades Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The District Workshop, led by District chairman, Mrs. Mildred Leonard, and Presbytery President, Mrs. Edith Swain, brought 30 Presbyterian women to Belle Glade from churches extending from Fort Pierce to Miami and west to Naples.

The women of Everglades Presbyterian Church of Belle Glade served as hostesses, under the direction of the local president of the Women of the Church, Mrs. Urban Felling.

The meeting, which began at 10 a.m. and extended through the luncheon, was designed to present the program of the Women of the Church for the coming year, and to offer help and resource materials to the women of the participating churches.

The Rev. Abe Castor, pastor, and a member of the Committee on Women's Work of Everglades Presbytery, presented a devotional from Acts 16:14, citing the Biblical example of Lydia as an intelligent businesswoman, who served in the Early Church.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 276 were among those gathering and sending supplies to flood victims in Honduras last week. The girls gathered a number of grocery bags of canned goods and clothing. After gathering the relief supplies, the group took them to St. Philip Benizi Catholic Church, which has been acting as a center for relief supplies.

38-Year Resident Dies

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Duncan

Edward Lee, 38 years of age, a retired auto mechanic, at the Mixson Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Roy Miller of the Belle Glade Church of God officiating.

He died Sunday morning at Glades General Hospital. He had been a resident of Belle Glade for the past two years, making his home at 841 N.E. 26th St.

He was a veteran of World War II and the Korean War, serving as a master sergeant in the U.S. Army for 17 years. He was a member of the Belle Glade Church of God and had been connected with Ford Motor Co.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Merita Lee of Belle Glade; four sons, Gerald Lee of New Jersey, Thomas Dwayne Wright of Belle Glade, Edward Shirley Wright of Hartwell, Ga. and Thurman Wright of South Bay; four daughters, Miss Donna Lee of Molokai, Mrs. Mary J. Hicks of Belle Glade, Mrs. Alpha K.

School Meeting Held

The School Advisory Committee of Gore Elementary held its first meeting of the new school year Sept. 23.

The Committee is a group of interested parents and teachers who represent the community and the school in defining how the school can better serve its pupils and the community at large.

Mrs. Starr Miller is chair-person of the group and presided at the meeting. Several projects were discussed including an Open House which the Committee is sponsoring on the evening of Oct. 15th at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The purpose of the Open House is to give parents an opportunity to meet the staff and teachers. There will also be a discussion on the plans and goals of the school.

PARENTS AND YOUNG DRIVERS

Young drivers (under 25) are involved in over twice as many accidents as any other age group. Traffic safety experts agree that the single most effective influence on improving their driving performance is parental control. Here are some of their suggestions:

Make sure your teen-ager takes advantage of a driver education course. Many schools offer them and they'll save you money on your insurance bill. Most teenagers begin their driving in the family car. Don't be afraid to assert your authority from the start and be consistent. Learn to use the word "no" when you feel you should.

Make it your business to know teen drivers' whereabouts and how they behave on the road. Don't hesitate to restrict driving privileges when unsafe driving warrants such action.

Do your best to control drinking and driving by youthful drivers in your family. Alcohol is a factor in 71 per cent of deaths of drivers under 21.

Castor Threatens To Quit

The Rev. Abe Castor, pastor of Everglades Presbyterian Church, threatened to quit religion and resign from Christian Faith altogether, "if Jesus Christ is only an example to be followed."

In presenting the doctrine of Christ in his current series of sermons on the basic evangelical beliefs, Rev. Castor declared, "Jesus Christ is God incarnate, the divine son of God. First and foremost He is our Saviour, having paid the penalty for our sins by his death on the cross. If he is just an example to be followed, we are without hope, for no one can measure up to that example. If that is all He is, I would have to quit, resign from religion altogether, for I could never measure up to that Example."

Instead, Rev. Castor declared, "Jesus Christ is our only hope of salvation," quoting Romans 3:23, "Since all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God, they are justified by his grace as a gift," and Romans 6:23, "For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Rev. Castor, a graduate of Houghton College, Emory University, and Columbia Theological Seminary, said he is committed to simplicity in Biblical preaching. The public is invited to the preaching of the Word of God each Sunday at 11 a.m. Sunday Night Bible Study is at 7:30.

Vaughn-Weeks Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Debra Sue Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Vaughn of 600 S.E. Eighth Street, became the bride Aug. 31 of James Melvin Weeks Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Melvin Weeks Sr. of 141 S. Greenstar Ave. in Pahokee.

The double ring, candle-light ceremony took place in the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade with the Rev. Trevette Weeks, uncle of the groom, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, J. Ray Hatton II of Pahokee served the groom as the best man and Mrs. Ray Hatton of Palm Springs, the sister of the bride, was the matron of honor.

Miss Phyllis Caldwell of Pahokee and Miss Lori Savakie were the bridesmaids. Dennis Guthrie and George Tillis, both of Pahokee, were the groomsmen and Tamra Culbertson of Pahokee was the flower girl.

Ushers for the ceremony were Jimmy Herring, Gary Gillis and Billy Weeks, all of Pahokee.

The church was decorated with two large candelabra with 48 candles, a large basket of pastel flowers in the center of the altar, palms on the altar and bows on the family pews. Mrs. Teryl Collier played the organ and Mrs. Esther Wenger sang "A Time for Us," "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a hand beaded floor-length wedding gown of nylon organza. The hemline was framed in cotton venice lace and was accented by lace motifs. A matching chapel length mantilla was worn with the dress and she carried a nosegay of white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

The matron of honor wore a gown of mint green flowered chiffon tied in back with a sash, with long sleeves and a large ruffle at the bottom. Her dress was lined in mint satin and she carried pastel flowers in a wicker basket. She also wore a mint green hat.

The bridesmaids wore the same type of dress as the matron of honor in lavender and yellow. They carried the same flowers and wore the same types of hats in lavender and yellow.

The flower girl was dressed the same as the attendants, except in pink. She dropped rose petals while walking up the aisle.

The reception followed in the church fellowship hall with Mrs. Ruth Hewitt of Panama City, Mrs. Sandy Maynor, Mrs. Cindy Miller, Mrs. Debbie Moss, Mrs.

Jackie McKinstry and Mrs. Loretta Weeks assisting. Pastel colored flowers, miniature bridesmaids and groomsmen decorated the fourtiered wedding cake. Other refreshments on the bride's table included mints, nuts and punch flowing from a fountain.

Guests were present from

Library News

Have you ever seen the LOCUMOBILE, the PACK-ARROW, or the HUPMOBILE?

The Belle Glade Municipal Library's adult display of the week features books on the early American and European automobiles. Q. David Bowers' book entitled EARLY AMERICAN CAR ADVERTISEMENTS contains nostalgic ads on such things as the "Moterette" selling for $385, and the luxury Haynes 50-60 Fordor Limousine. Model Y electric and oil lighted fully equipped selling in 1912 for $360.

What were Eclipse Safety First Headlight shades? The ad read, "they give better results than head-lights equipped with double filament bulbs because being made of a translucent fabric arranged to pull down like a window shade over the front of the headlights they allow ample general illumination at your peak. A set costs $19.00."

In 1914 a Saxon car costing $395 traveled all the way from New York to San Francisco in just thirty days—a remarkable accomplishment until Firestone advertised that a motorist in Illinois went 3000 miles on his Firestone tires without any trouble. The Belle Glade Municipal Library offers this book and many more on automobiles, whether one is strictly interested in the "antiques", or how to repair a more recent model.

October is Lakeshore Elementary school's month at the library. Students at Lakeshore Elementary may replace their lost library cards with free new cards. Teachers may request special library orientation tours for their classes, and films will be available for specially scheduled viewings at the library. Call ahead to arrange a time. The hour of 9-10 a.m. has been specially set aside for school classes for tours and films, when requested, but other hours may be arranged.

On Saturday, Oct. 5, from 2-3 p.m., the library will have a Children's Film Hour. Animated cartoons and short films will be shown.

Rainbow Officers Installed

Mrs. Ellen Clark, the Mother Advisor, welcomed the group to the meeting and the installing officers were Janis Clark as Worthy Advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Gummere as Chaplain, Cindy Henley as Marshall, Jerry Gummere as Recorder and Terri Collier as Musician.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Shirley Williams, Mrs. Howard Lamb, Mrs. Judy Groves, Mrs. Janis Harris and Mrs. James Moon.

Panama City, Alliance, O., Miami, Orlando, Lake Worth and Louisville, O.

The couple took a wedding trip to Disney World and Daytona Beach. They are now making their residence at 251 S.W. 14th St. in Pahokee.

The bride graduated from Glades Central High School in 1973 and completed the operating room technician program at Palm Beach Junior College in 1974. She is now employed in Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee.

The groom graduated from Pahokee High School in 1973 and is now employed with J.G. Weeks and Son.

The groom is the grandson of the late J.G. Weeks of Pahokee and the bride is the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Agnes Gressinger of Belle Glade.

Asi Trabaja la Rehabilitacion

Prisiones o instituciones correccionales son, usualmente, motivo de miedo y ansiedad para la comunidad debido a huelgas y disturbios; tambien estos lugares son blanco de constantes criticas. Nosotros, el Grupo Hispano de Terapia Realista, representando a la colonia penal queremos convertirnos hoy en un rayo de esperanza y fe para los que en Honduras sufren la devastacion causada por el ciclon "FIFI".

La prision a dejado de ser un lugar donde los hombres son mandados a languidecer hasta que sus condenas sean cumplidas. La institucion correccional de Belle Glade, particularmente, es un lugar de accion donde los hombres son enseñados a trabajar, aprenden un oficio, tambien la oportunidad de educarse, y la ocasion de encontrar a Dios. Curiosamente, el talento artistico abunda aqui y el deseo de ser utiles para con nosotros mismos y para con la sociedad es eficientemente promovido por la Dra. Williams, psicologa de la institucion, y su Terapia Realista. El dia 12 de Octubre el grupo hispano presentara una exposicion y venta de pinturas y artesanias preparadas por los prisioneros de G.C.I. Esta exposicion tendra lugar en: St. PHILIP BENIZI CHURCH 708 South Main Street, Belle Glade Fla. comenzando a las 11:00 a.m. y terminando a las 4:00 p.m.

Por este medio queda usted invitado y tambien su distinguida familia a asistir y participar de nuestra labor. Vengan y conozcan a los miembros de nuestro grupo, a nuestra Dra. Williams, a los oficiales correccionales; disfruten de los deliciosos dulces confeccionados por la Sra. Caturia y las damas que ella representa. Pero sobre todo venga y ayudemos todos juntos a nuestros hermanos Hondureños.

La Tragedia de Honduras

Ante una tragedia como la de Honduras, la comunidad, y la humanidad entera reacciona favorablemente. Es una señal manifiesta que el hombre en casos semejantes expresa su conciencia, y la prueba de sus sentimientos humanos. Cuando se trata de un acto de caridad no hay fronteras, ni barreras que lo impidan. La virtud no tiene fronteras, nacionalidad, region o continente, es de todos, y para todos.

Una tragedia, o una calamidad, nos afecta a todos, y en casos semejantes, reafirmamos nuestra creencia que todos somos hijos de Dios, y todos hermanos en Cristo. Es un rango hermosísimo, y casi heroico, lo que la comunidad entera esta haciendo, aportando su pequena contribucion, accion de gran sacrificio, ropa, alimento, monetaria. Nos preguntamos. Que seria si este amor fuera practicado durante todo el curso de nuestra vida? Verdad que cambiaríamos el aspecto entero del mundo. El amor, la caridad abunda en el mundo, hay que explotarla, y dar oportunidad a los hombres, de compartirla. Hagamos que, este amor viva en nuestros corazones, y florezca en medio de la humanidad.

En nombre de los damnificados por el Cicon queremos expresar nuestra sincera gratitud a todos aquellos que con tanta generosidad han contribuido a esa campana de caridad. La ayuda sigue en pie, y los que no lo han hecho todavia y quieren hacerlo pueden enviar su ayuda a la Parroquia de San Felipe Benizi. Un camion lleno de ropa y viveros ya esta en camino hacia Honduras, el paroco Pa Pablo mismo lo llevo al Aeropuerto de Miami, donde lo embarcaron a su destino, para los damnificados en Honduras. Todos deben sentirse felices, por este acto de caridad y de conciencia, Dios ha de bendecir su generosidad y su bondad. Muchas gracias.

La Tradicional Comida-Belle Cubana

La Tradicional Comida-Belle Cubana (Annual Cuban Dinner and Dance) sera este ano en el Elk's Club de Belle Glade el Domingo Octubre 13. La Comida empezando de 6 a 8 p.m., y el Baile de 8 a 12 p.m. Musica por "Los Astros" de West Palm Beach. Patrocinada por la Iglesia Catolica de Pakokee (St. Mary's Altar Society). Donacion $7.50 por persona. Si alguna persona quiere tickets pueden llamar en Belle Glade a la Sra. Madeline Armas al 996-7385 y en Pakokee a la Sra. Myrtha Graydon al 924-5080.

Nuestra Gratitud

Las Iglesias de Saint Philip Benizi y la Iglesia Metodista Community de esta expresan su gratitud por la excelente respuesta de esta comunidad a los damnificados del cicon Fifi en Honduras. Es hermoso ver como todos nos podemos unir y ayudar a un pueblo en tragedia.

Taste of Victory

The sweet taste of victory came late yesterday afternoon.

The crisis began two days ago, while the patriot cadre was snug in the comfort of its successes. They had won a series of votes, although Samuel Adams' astute cousin John, 38, had analyzed the assembly as "one third Whig, one third Tory and the rest mongrel." To voice its opinions, the patriots also had the eloquence and prestige of Patrick Henry and Richard Henry Lee of Virginia.

Among some of the patriots, overconfidence had grown to indifference as Joseph Galloway took the floor at Carpenters' Hall. This loyalist leader suddenly introduced "A Plan of Proposed Union between Great Britain and the Colonies."

They watched Joseph Galloway rise to speak, haughty in his bearing but wary of the prevailing political wind here. "I am," he said, "as much a friend of liberty as exists. No man shall go farther in point of fortune or in point of blood than the man who now addresses you."

His words fell on them like a rain of arrows, piercing the seams that have held the patriot coalition together. This Congress had convened to heal wounds, he declared. Its endorsement of the Suffolk Resolves had sanctioned secession. Non-importation would rip away the last hope of reconciliation. If war comes, "America will be ruined."

But it is not too late, Galloway stated. His "Plan of Union" would bring colonies and crown together in a more equal partnership. This Congress could petition the King for a redress of colonial grievances. Internal colonial affairs would be conducted by a Grand Council, composed of representatives elected by each legislature. The King would appoint a President General of America. Peace, prosperity and liberty were within their reach—if only all colonies would abandon belligerence and embrace this plan.

A stout old Quaker gentleman in a broad-brimmed hat whispered to us with a knowing nod of the head: "It's much like the old Albany Plan. Ben Franklin first came up with it twenty years ago."

Galloway's speech still resounded in the ears of the delegates as New York's James Duane leaped up to second the proposal. Young John Jay, another New York delegate, followed. A third boost came from South Carolina's Edward Rutledge. The wave of enthusiasm for Galloway's plan was suddenly sweeping delegations. We could almost feel the once solid structure of the patriot faction breaking apart.

A desperate Patrick Henry took the floor in opposition. "Their system would ruin the cause of America," he exclaimed. And referring to Britain's taxation without representation: "Before we are obliged to pay taxes as they do, let us be as free as they."

The result of the vote yesterday was no chance turn of patriot luck. Samuel Adams spent what may have been the longest night of his life repairing the battered patriot coalition. In the flickering candlelight of City Tavern, he hammered away relentlessly at delegate commitments.

Yesterday, by a vote of six colonies to five, Congress postponed consideration of the "Galloway Plan." The two delegates from Rhode Island differed, nullifying their colony's vote.

The "Plan of Union" has been pigeonholed for later consideration, an almost-certain slow death.

Joseph Galloway must now be asking himself: did it kill the last hope for reconciliation with the mother country?

That's a Lotta Bull

record price of $175,000 at a sale held at the Schearbrook Land and Livestock, Inc., headquarters ranch near Dayton. Filippo who weighs more than 2915 lbs. and stands over six feet at the shoulders was consigned to the sale by the Italian White Cattle Breeders of North America, Ltd., Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Teets Presented Bronze Palm Award

David Teets was presented the Bronze Palm, signifying he has earned five merit badges over and above the 24 needed for the rank of Eagle Scout, during Troop 821's first court of honor following the summer season.

The Bronze Palm was one of a number of awards presented to the scouts of the troop by Scoutmaster Robert Fincannon during ceremonies at Everglades Presbyterian Church.

Bobby Pease, Ronny Cameron, Douglas Tanner and Earl Wills were presented the Scout Award as new members of Troop 821 as Senior Patrol Leader.

Mike Fincannon presided over the court of honor. Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Burkett and Fincannon presented merit badges to Jeff Jones for cooking and communications, to Keith Hicks for archery and to Mark Gressinger for first aid and swimming.

Mike Fincannon earned a merit badge for riflery-shotgun. David Teets won awards for fingerprinting, Indian Lore, riflery-shotgun and Charlie Schiele won awards for pioneering and pets.

Fincannon recognizes Jim Teets for receiving the rank of Star while at summer camp in July.

Fincannon said the highlight of the year was the 10-day hike he and Frank Teets led through Philmont Ranch in New Mexico during August. It was the largest contingent from the Glades area to have the experience.

Fincannon thanked Burkett for his help in continuing the meetings of Troop 821 during the summer.

He said an important Troop 821 committee meeting is to be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 10 at the church and all members are urged to attend.

William King to be Speaker

William H. King, Director of Alcohol Rehabilitation Program of Community Action Migrant Program, Inc., will be the speaker for Community Services Council at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 9, at the Glades Office Building.

King is a part of the staff of another "first" for the Glades area, a Halfway House located at 135 N.W. 11th Street in South Bay.

The program is being funded to provide a delivery system of treatment and rehabilitation for the alcoholic.

The upcoming speaker comes to this area following employment with the Mental Health District Board No. 20, Inc., 1639 Forum Place, West Palm Beach, where he was director of alcoholism programs for two years.

Prior to employment there, he was Economic Development Specialist of Community Action Agency in Miami; director of Outreach Program, ADCO Improvement Association, Inc. of Brighton, Colorado; Job and Economic Development Specialist, Rural Development Corporation of Los Angeles, Cal. Quality Control Coordinator for Transcendental Corporation in the Mississippi Delta area; and Consultant for the Office of the Accountant General in Washington, evaluating Community Action Programs in the Sixth Region.

All agencies in the Glades area are urged to send representatives, and private citizens are invited to attend. There is no fee, and the meeting is for the purpose of information dissemination. For further information, call Mrs. Gene R. Cross, Palm Beach County Social Services office, 996-5547.

He said an important Troop 821 committee meeting is to be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 10 at the church and all members are urged to attend.

The Lieutenant, a 1965 graduate of East Lake High School, received his B.S. degree in industrial engineering in 1974 from Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Alpha Pi Mu.

Five Stops Planned for October

After collecting 16, 184 pounds of aluminum, or 572,232 all-aluminum cans, last month in Belle Glade, Reynolds Metals Co.'s mobile aluminum recycling unit has five stops planned for City Park, 500 W. Canal St. during October.

The public will receive 15 cents per pound for the aluminum scrap every THURSDAY from 12:30 p.m. till 2 p.m. at City Park, 500 W. Canal.

Aluminum may be called an "energy bank" because only 5 percent of the energy used for original production of the cans and containers is used to recycle the product and return it to market, in the form of new cans. A ton of aluminum will produce about 32,690 all-aluminum cans.

According to Paul Hayden, Reynolds regional recycling manager, the company is currently collecting over 25 percent of its can production, and this figure is growing all the time.

Nationally, Reynolds has more than 20 recycling plants and over 30 mobile aluminum recycling units in operation.

Blasts Askew Administration

Thomas Has His Day

Last Thursday was Jerry Thomas Day in the Glades and Thomas made the most of it, munching on raw corn in a field off Brown's Farm Road, touring city and county facilities in the Glades and meeting voters all over the Glades.

Thomas was accompanied by his wife, Jean, his son, Kenny, and Walter Dutch, a long-time family friend, all working on Thomas' campaign for the governorship.

Thomas and his entire family seemed to be enjoying themselves hugely as they moved through the Glades, meeting people and renewing acquaintances with old friends.

Glades Republican Club Chairman Robert Pease hosted the gubernatorial hopeful on his round of planned activities.

Pease picked Thomas up at Pahokee Airport at 10:45 a.m. and a train of cars followed Lee Berryhill to one of Pioneer Grower's fields where Thomas met workers harvesting corn before going to the Belle Glade Lions Club where he met local Lions and ripped into the Gov. Reubin Askew administration.

Leaving the Lions Club, which had been postponed a day for the occasion, Thomas went to the Pahokee Elks Club and then

"I'll tell you one thing. If you send me to Tallahassee and I can't stop it (the new Capitol Building) we'll have the tallest jail in the country right there in Tallahassee." - Jerry Thomas back to an open house at Glades Republican Headquarters.

Along the way, he toured Pahokee, Belle Glade and county facilities and that night spoke to 200 of the faithful attending a testimonial dinner in his honor.

And when he spoke, he received cheers, whether he was taking a poke at modern education, calling the Askew administration an example of inefficiency or taking a law and order stance.

"I want to court to try to stop it," Thomas remarked about the $42 million, 22-story capitol building now under construction in Tallahassee, "and if you elect me your governor, I'll do my best to stop it when I get in office."

"But if I'm elected," he said, "and I can't stop the construction, I'll tell you what. We're going to have the tallest jail in the country right there in Tallahassee."

Thomas informed the people at the dinner the state's prisons had been closed to new inmates because there was no more room.

"I was asked not long ago if I have a prison reform platform. I said, yeah, build more prisons."

He said he personally likes Gov. Askew, a classmate of his at Florida State University, "but I believe this country is at war within itself and I'd run against my own brother if he had the same policies as Reubin Askew."

On the increase of the state budget and the addition of 30,000 new employees under the administration, he said, "He's a nice guy but we can't afford him."

He repeated former charges that large newspapers in the state are shielding Askew's record from the public and are giving the incumbent more coverage. He also repeated his challenge to Askew to participate in three one-hour television debates.

"We wouldn't need anyone coming on before us to tell the viewers what we were going to say," Thomas said. "And we certainly wouldn't need any commentators to come on afterwards to tell you what we'd said because you'd be able to understand Jerry Thomas."

Get in the Way!

People throughout the Glades are being asked for the first time ever to get in the way.

Get in the United Way that is.

The 1974 United Way campaign is being brought to the Glades for the first time in an effort to get Glades residents and businesses to help raise the $630,000 set as this year's fund-raising goal.

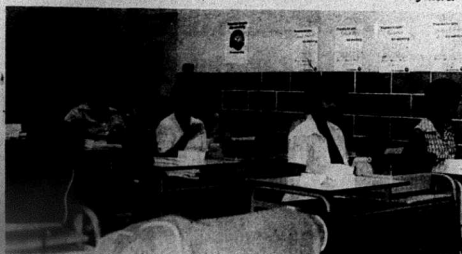

Heading the drive in the Glades are Merrill Eastman, Don Migliore and Homer Green, all part of the loaned executives program. Green and Migliore are employed by the American Red Cross and Eastman is personnel manager at the Quaker Oats furfural plant here.

The three executives are on loan to the United Way for the duration of the fund-raising campaign while being paid by their respective organizations.

Eastman will be approaching every business in the Glades with more than 20 employees and Green and Migliore are responsible for contacting every business with fewer than 20 employees plus all residents.

Migliore mounted his part of the program last week by getting nine local women volunteers to type out and address letters to all the residents and small businesses in the Glades.

He said he expected to have the letters

Got Canary on Your Breath, Lee?

Enjoying the fruits of victory, Lee Berryhill seems to be suppressing a secret glee at knowing his team won handily the membership drive contest for the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce. The occasion was a victory dinner Saturday night at the Elks Club with the members of the losing team paying for steak dinners for the entire chamber.

Florida Convention To be Held Oct. 3

The 25th annual Florida Christian Convention will be held in Orlando on Oct. 3 and 4. Richard L. Marshall, Minister of First Christian Church in Kissimmee, is the president. Brother Marshall has ministered in Florida for 16 years, nine of those in the Miami area.

In 1960 the first convention of the independent Christian churches of Florida was held in Kissimmee. At that time 300 were registered for the convention. Since then the convention has grown to a registration of over 6,000 and has convened in every sector of the state of Florida.

The facilities of First Baptist Church, 100 E. Pine Street in Orlando, are being rented by the Christian churches for use during this year's convention.

Featured at the evening sessions on Oct. 3 and 4 will be James McKown of Columbus, Ga. Outstanding preachers and Christian leaders from throughout the state of Florida will be bringing messages and leading workshop sessions during the day on Friday.

A highlight of every convention has always been outstanding music by choirs, quartets and other musical groups.

The Florida Christian

Convention is an inspirational rather than an administrative convention. It is not a delegate convention, but rather is open to all Christians desiring to attend.

Since the churches involved are locally self-governed congregations, this is not a policy making convention. Rather, it is a gathering dedicated to the preaching of the Gospel and challenging Christians to a deeper commitment and fuller service to the Lord.

The theme of the 1974 convention is "Triumph in Christ."

The Parson Pontificates

What happened to the slogan, "Ford Has a Better Idea"? A certain president with the same Ford name seems to be able to convince no one of that so far. His pardon of Mr. Nixon brought threats of another impeachment. And it looks as if he had better rescind his "conditional amnesty" proclamation, since it is evident that conditional amnesty pleases no one. The D D and D's want the USA to bring them home, apologize and pay reparations, and decorate them. Some Vets, on the other hand, don't want them home at all, except maybe in jail. Is there no point of reconciliation between the proponents of law and patriotism and the espousers of mercy? Could it be that Christians ought to lean a LITTLE toward the side of mercy? (See St. Luke 15:25-32)

Rev. Fred Williams To be Guest Speaker

The Rev. Dr. H. Fred Williams Director of Missions for the Royal Palm Baptist Association, will be the guest speaker at the First Baptist Church of South Bay, for a week of Spiritual Renewal, beginning Sunday, Oct. 6, with the morning services at 11 a.m.

Dr. Williams was in the Navy during World War II, was wounded in the Battle of Okinawa, and received the Purple Heart in 1945. He later served as chaplain in Fort Benning, Ga.

He has also pastored churches in Mississippi and Florida before being called to serve in the Royal Palm Association in 1971.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Williams each evening at 7:30 at the South Bay Church. Rev. Alex Pasetti is the pastor.

Bike Safety

Program Planned

The Public Affairs Department of the Belle Glade Jr. Women's club kicked off a back to school "Bicycle Safety" program for the month of September.

Sgt. Hillon from the Florida Highway patrol is coming from West Palm Beach to head the program. He is showing a 12 minute film on "Bicycle Riding Reminders."

A rule booklet is also being handed out to each child. Sgt. Hillon is asking that each child take these booklets home so the parents can go over the rules with their child.

He also informs the children that they can also receive a traffic ticket for breaking bicycle laws. In his program, he has many other safety tips for the children such as guns are not to be played with and to never touch a bullet. If they find it, report it to a teacher or parent.

He sums up his program stating a policeman is not someone to be afraid of, but a friend.

Mrs. Stephen Miller said all the schools in Belle Glade, kindergarten through the sixth grade, will have the program. Two schools have been covered and over 600 children have already seen the program.

Skipper Chuck to Visit

Mrs. Findlay Pate, Chairman, and Mrs. Karl Larsen, members of the Belle Glade Junior Women's Club C.I.P. (Community Improvement Project) Committee are putting up posters in the local schools and several stores announcing the coming of Skipper Chuck. This will be the first program of Project J. O. Y. (Juniors and Others for Youth), which will be the new Community Improvement Project for 1974-76. This program will be for the younger set, but programs and projects for all age groups will be held throughout the two-year period.

Food Stamp Unit Schedule Changed

The schedule for the Food Stamp Mobile Unit has been changed for the Belle Glade area, according to Supervisor D.E. Barnhardt, and stamps will be sold in Belle Glade every Monday, Thursday and Friday except for the first Thursday of the month.

"Every first and third Tuesday," Barnhardt said, "we will sell at Padgett Island in Pahokee. Every second and fourth Tuesday, we will sell at the A&P Store in Pahokee."

He said the first and third Wednesdays will be sale days in South Bay and every second and fourth Wednesday, sales will be made in Fremd Village, Pahokee.

"Due to end-of-the-month reports," he said, "we do not sell stamps on the last two working days of the month."

GED Test to be Given

The Department of Adult and Community Education announces that the Florida High School Equivalency diploma test (G.E.D.) will be given Oct. 15, 16 and 17 at the Forest Hill High School Adult Center, 6901 Parker Avenue, West Palm Beach, from 6 to 10 p.m. This service is now being offered weekly.

For further information call the Adult Education office 332-2424.

Nu Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Kirby Norman recently. The Chapter finalized their plans for a deep sea fishing trip and also decided on a new service project.

After refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Tom Ruffelt, Mrs. Glen Angel, and Mrs. Willie Lee, sponsor.

Course Begins

A ten-week Wednesday evening course in Celestial Navigation will be offered at Palm Beach Junior College starting Sept. 25 from 7-10 p.m. W. S. (Steve) Kals, author of Practical Boat- ing and Practical Navigation, a former director of the Palm Beach Planetarium, will teach the course.

The boatman will be taught to fix his position at sea from a sextant sight of the sun, moon or stars, making it possible for the student to navigate long shore, across the Gulf Stream, on inter-island passages, and across oceans. A knowledge of astronomy and mathematics is not necessary.

Each student will have an opportunity to use a sextant and work examples of actual sights.

The use of the direction finder and depth sounder will also be covered, according to Kals.

Registration for the $30 course is scheduled for Sept. 25 at 7 p.m. in the Science Building, Room 14.

For further information about this and other evening courses at PBJC, contact the evening coordinator's office, 965-9006.

at the Belle Glade Holiday Inn Oct. 4 between 12 noon and 3:30.

PART TIME

I need two women to work two to four hours, five days a week. $2 per hour. See Mr. Allgood Belle Glade Holiday Inn 2-4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 4.

Migliore said the Glades campaign is being mounted from Belle Glade because of its population and central location.

He stressed the fact 88 per cent of the donations go directly to the agencies supported by United Way while 4 per cent go to administration and 8 per cent goes to financing the campaign itself.

Among the programs the Glades receives the benefit of are the Catholic Service Bureau, Community Coordinated Child Care, the American Red Cross, Visiting Homemakers Service, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and the Children's Home Society.

B.H. Vendric of the Catholic Service Bureau said the bureau has served a total of 12 persons in the Glades the first seven months of 1974, offering family services, syphilis mental assistance, assistance to unwed parents and adoption services.

Community Coordinated Child Care operates two day care centers in Belle Glade, two in Pahokee and one in Lake Harbor.

The American Red Cross offers first aid instruction and safety programs throughout the Glades and teaches water safety courses, primarily at the Lake Shore Pool, besides contacting returning veterans to acquaint them with their rights and benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

The Visiting Homemakers Service of Palm Beach County is presently serving 12 patients in the area, one of which is in the hospital, by two Homemakers Health Aides.

The services given include personal care such as bathing the patient, environmental cleanliness and shopping with or for the patient.

Two other trained persons are in the area but the organization can't pay them to begin work because of lack of funds.

Glades District Scouting includes 210 volunteer workers supervising a total of 625 boy scouts, according to District Executive Earl K. Hartman, an increase of 20 per cent over last year.

Girl Scouts is operating under Palm Glades Girl Scout Council amount to approximately 300 girls in 14 area troops.

The Children's Home Society also offers full service to the Glades, with several volunteers working in the program in the Glades and several Glades residents serving on the board of directors.

Welcome, Jerry!

When Jerry Thomas comes to the Glades, he's known for a long time he's among friends, but when the occasion is Jerry Thomas Day in the Glades, he's made doubly welcome. Thomas took a break from his busy campaign in the more populous counties of the state to drop into the Glades for a full day last Thursday to renew old acquaintances, meet new friends, politics and enjoy "down home" cooking and Glades hospitality. From corn field to country club and from Pahokee to Belle Glade, Thomas was welcomed as "our next governor" by Glades Republicans.

Story Told

ORLANDO. The president of a non-profit organization telling the real story of agririchness to the public has expressed shock and indignation over reports of biased education given migrant children.

Fred Y. Montsdeco, Ocala, Head of the Agririchness Institute of Florida, quoted reports that 8 to 12 year old children of farm workers were put into simulated strike and boycott situations during a recent summer camp.

At the end of the camp period, according to the published reports, the children were made to march and picket Avon Park businesses in support of the United Farm Workers of America. Montsdeco scored such tactics at the Lake Byrd camp sponsored jointly by the UFW and the Florida Christian Migrant Ministry.

Christmas Parade Plans Start

With the temperature hovering in the 90's, probably no one in Belle Glade is quite ready for this but a group of local women are already laying plans for the Third Annual Christmas Parade here.

Mrs. Lynette Thompson, who was primarily responsible for the Second Annual Christmas Parade last year, said she has set a tentative date of Dec. 7 for the coming of Santa Claus.

Mrs. Thompson said she was forming an ad hoc committee, primarily because she has already been asked by several people around town to supervise the 1974 version of the parade.

So far, she said, she has recruited Mrs. Judy Schiele, Mrs. Janis Fliehs and Mrs.

Marjorie Echols.

"But we're still looking for other members to round out the committee," she said. "Anyone interested in joining us can contact me at 996-6205 or leave a message at 996-7641."

Wooten Attends Clinic

MIAMI, FLA., W.A. "Doug" Wooten, a Belle Glade pharmacist, attended the Consultant Pharmacist Conference on "Clinical Pharmacy" held at the Sonesta Beach Hotel in Key Biscayne, Sept. 14-15.

The Conference was presented by the Division of Continuing Professional Education of the University of Florida College of Pharmacy. The program focused on how the pharmacist's expertise can be utilized to improve the health care of institutionalized patients.

The usefulness of, and the processes involved in, pharmacist monitoring of patient drug therapy were discussed.

Why Not Compare Quality & Price for Yourself!

Karen's Korner

By Karen
Hansford

Glades Day School isn't so faring so well this year with no wins and two losses tucked under its belt.

The last game was a heartbreaker though, with the Gators going down in the final seconds of the game to their opponent. The Gators' next two games are away with one at Marathon next week and they go against Moore Haven Oct. 11. After that they come to home territory Oct. 18 for a match against St. Edward's.

Glades Central Raiders, employing the two-quarterback system which was so successful a few years ago, is ready to host Cardinal Newman's Crusaders tomorrow night.

Cardinal Newman is coming off a scoreless tie with the Jupiter Warriors last week. But it felt like a victory for Jupiter though.

I remember (not so long ago) when Cardinal Newman was a really big rival for the Raiders as we were both aiming for the championship. We lost a really bad one to the Crusaders that year, but thanks to Martin Gators the two schools ended up as co-champions, although the Raiders went on to the playoffs and then the state championship. (Remember Milton, or good ole "Scratch Ankle"?)

"Ah, ye of little faith!"

The Miami Dolphins were almost written off the Super Bowl Sunday as they stumbled in the first three quarters of the football game with the San Diego Chargers.

Going into the fourth period of play Miami was trailing 21-7 and the game broadcasters were already talking about how far the San Diego Chargers had come in the past year, being able to upset two heavily favored teams who are predicted to make it to the playoffs, if not the Super Bowl—first Cincinnati, then Miami.

Indeed, after the Chargers' 57-yard touchdown march in the third quarter to go ahead by 14, I picked up my Dolphin mug in disgust and refilled it with tea—not beer, mind you. I've seen those cartoons of men with beer bellies sitting back in their easy chair with a can of beer sitting on the arm of the chair and yelling "Let's get on with the game!" I have no desire to become a female version of them.

But I still had hope in the Dolphins and along with many other fans, I was rewarded with watching them march for the touchdowns, the last one happening 18 seconds before the end of the game.

The National Football League has experienced a few upsets this early in the season and many are wondering if it is really going to affect the outcome of the playoffs.

Look at the New England Patriots, who many were predicting to be one and two at the most after three games. Instead, they rolled over their opponents, two of which are predicted to make the Super Bowl (Miami and Los Angeles). And then there's St. Louis, who is also three and 0; New York (Giants) who upstaged Dallas last Sunday; and even Pittsburgh got into it, but this time on the other end of the stick as they succumbed to Oakland 17-0.

Sort of tosses everything in the air, doesn't it?—to which teams will come out on the top of the heap?

Last Second Score Upends Glades Day

Glades Day Football Coach Dave Magnuson said he expects to use the same kind of wide open attack the Gators have used in their first two games against Marathon High School this week.

"I really thought we'd won," Magnuson said about the game Friday against Mary Immaculate, "and we were winning it right up to the final seconds."

With only 20 seconds of playing time left, a Mary Immaculate player caught a pass on the Gator 5-yard line and raced in to upend Glades Day. The final score was 19-16.

Magnuson said he is pinning his hopes for a successful second season of sanctioned Class A play on a passing attack generated by sophomore quarterback George Echave and receivers Brandon Markham and Danny Duda.

The Gators struck through the air for 150 yards against Mary Immaculate as opposed to 120 yards gained by their infantry...and this was accomplished in spite of the fact Duda was taken out just before the half.

Duda is also expected to miss the entire Marathon game but Magnuson said he is expecting Markham to fill in the gap.

"Markham played an outstanding game against (cont. p. 7)

Glades Central Coasts to 27-0 Win

The Super Bad Raiders found their offense Friday night and rolled to an easy 27 to 0 victory over the outmanned North Shore Mustangs.

The hard charging offensive line opened up big holes in the Mustang defense all night and a crew of fast Raider backs rushed for 241 yards in 42 carries.

Quarterback Rigo Ruiz hit split end Michael Fringle with a 10-yard touchdown pass just before the half and the Raiders were on their way to their first victory of the young season.

The Raider defense completely dominated the hapless Mustang offense, recovering two fumbles, intercepting one pass and blocking two punts.

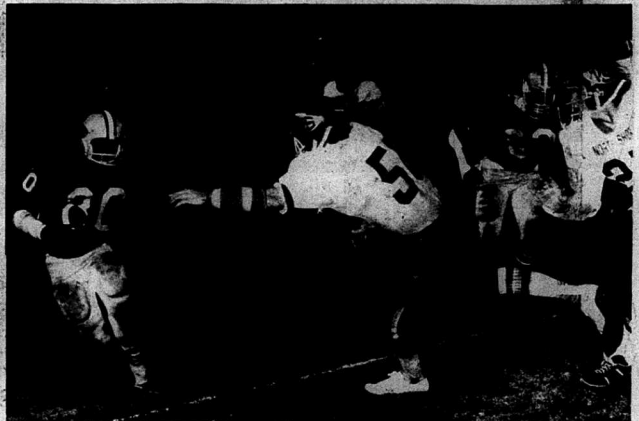

So effective was the Glades Central defense that North Shore had a net of 47 yards rushing and 20 yards passing for a net total yards of only 67.

Calvin Willis and David Jones led the defensive charge with 17 and 14 tackles respectively. Ends Cornelius Brown and Hudall Collie and right tackle Ernest Jackson all played an outstanding game.

Raider linebackers David Kinlaw, Charles Small, Bruce Rimes and Michael Washington combined for 21 tackles, one pass interception and one recovered fumble.

Not to be outdone by the players up front, the Raider secondary only allowed three completions in 11 attempts. The frustrated North Shore quarterback only completed two five-yard passes and the ten-yard pass for the night.

Leading the Raider charge was Anthony Parish, Willie Wright, Hector Velaz and T.J. Salter.

HUDALL COLLIE STEAMS AROUND END FOR GROUND GAINER ...as Raiders blasted Mustangs with hard nosed heads-up ball.

Coaches Johnny Davis and Riley Foster Jr. were very pleased with the improvement of the Raider defense.

Junior fullback Howard Moses led the Raider offense with 83 yards in 11 carries. Alexander Brown had 76 yards in 16 carries and Anthony Burger and Nathaniel Howard each gained 22 yards in four carries.

But it was the blocking of the offensive line that sparked the attack. Tackles Davey Locke and Clark Lloyd, guards Charles Ford, Allen Innes and Lester Finney and center Dicky Sweet opened up huge holes in the defense.

Only a fumble, dropped pass and three 15-yard penalties kept the Raiders from scoring three more touchdowns in the first half. Senior end Hudall Collie played well both ways as he was forced to take over the defensive end position when senior Willie Terry sprained his ankle.

Coaches Al Werneke and Jay Seider hope this is just the beginning of good things to come from the offense who did not have a very good day in their opening game against Atlantic.

Mary Immaculate," the head Gator said. "He caught a couple of key passes. Neither were for that much yardage but they were important."

"The offense as a whole played much better this week than they did last week," Magnuson said. "The defense played well in both games."

Coach Magnuson said fullback-middle linebacker Bill Thompson turned in an outstanding performance, scoring a touchdown.

Raiders Beat Mustangs

This week the Raiders host unbeaten but once-tied Cardinal Newman. The Crusaders battled Jupiter to a 0-0 tie last week after defeating Cardinal Gibbons 12-7 in their opening game.

Cardinal Newman's defense will pose a real threat to the Raiders' offense as Newman has only given up one touchdown.

The Crusaders will attempt to get their offense moving as they have not moved the ball very well in their first two games.

The offensive player of the week was a three way tie between linemen Dicky Sweet, Lester Finney and Davey Locke. They were followed closely by Hudall Collier, Charles Ford and Clark Lloyd for their outstanding blocking throughout the game.

After Rigo Ruiz hit Mitchell Pringle for the only touchdown of the first half, the Raiders scored the first time they had the ball in the third quarter with Anthony Burger taking a pitchout from Rigo Ruiz on the option and scoring from nine yards out.

Kicker David Kinlaw's extra points were perfect as the third quarter ended with the Raiders leading 14-0.

Early in the fourth quarter after the Raiders recovered a North Shore fumbled punt, Junior quarterback Johnny Rutledge sneaked over for the touchdown from the one yardline and Bruce Rimes kicked the extra point.

On the next series of downs, Nathaniel Howard took a pitchout from Johnny Rutledge and raced 14 yards for the touchdown behind a fine block by Patrick Collier. The extra point was wide and the Raiders had a fine 27-0 victory over the North Shore Mustangs.

Calvin Willis was selected as the defensive player of the week for his 17 tackles.

David Kinlaw, Ernest Jackson and Hudall Collier had six tackles each. Cornelius Brown and Bruce Rimes had four tackles each.

Bruce Rimes was the sticker of the week as he blitzed and hit fullback Lamar Donaldson so hard that both players were stunned.

The Raider Junior Varsity open up their home season this Thursday night when they host the Pahokee Junior Varsity at 7:30 p.m. The young Raiders have a 32-0 victory over Suncoast and 0-0 tie with Fort Pierce to show for their first two games.

Nowadays, many of our experts are telling us that so much of what we have come to know as the good life is either produced or operated at great peril to the population and to our environment, which in turn supports the population. It seems incredible that every automobile, airplane, industrial plant, or whatever that uses mechanical power perhaps should be flying the Jolly Roger.

This could be the great dilemma of the times. Everyone some one tries to do something to make life better, the effort is offset by the by-products that make life more hazardous.

Every citizen, not only of our great nation, but of the world needs to give careful consideration to this predicament in which we find ourselves. The subject is going to be increasingly debated. Efforts are going to be made to solve the dilemma.

Our greatest heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as for the ages as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton. We have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, that of preserving the greatest of all American heritages, the world has never known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness to risk so still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—more because we are Americans.

Bynum-Shiver Wed Aug. 31

JANIS ANN BYNUM MARRIED MICHAEL WALKER SHIVER
...in double ring ceremony at Laurel, Miss ceremony Aug. 31.

Miss Janis Ann Bynum, daughter of Mrs. Esther Keys and the late Roy Bynum of Laurel, Miss., became the bride of Michael Walker Shiver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Shiver of South Bay on Aug. 31.

The couple were wed in a double ring ceremony by the Rev. Eugene Murphy, assisted by the Rev. Leon Carmical, at Lebanon Baptist Church in Laurel, Miss. The bride was given in marriage by her paternal grandfather, Shubert Bynum.

Daniel L. Shiver of South Bay served his son as best man and Mrs. Howard M. Tidwell was the matron of honor. Miss Melissa Bynum, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

Jeannie Lee Carmical, Carol Hobfield and Amy Bynum were the ring girls and ushers were Danny Shiver and B.D. Shiver, brothers of the groom, both of South Bay.

The church altar was arranged with baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, baby's breath and English ivy. Miss Karen Hinton was in charge of the musical program.

The bride's dress, made by her mother, was of miramist over candlelight satin. Her mantilla veil was bordered with chantilly lace and was of cathedral length. Her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Shubert Bynum, embroidered the bride and groom's name and the date of the wedding on the hem of the wedding gown. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

The matron of honor wore a gown of pale blue shadow-striped satin with matching short jacket. She wore a red glamilin corsage.

The bridesmaid wore a dress identical to that of the matron of honor.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the church with Dorothy Shiver of South Bay; Teresa Graham of Mobile, Ala.; Mrs. Leona Wilson of Citronelle, Ala.; Mrs. Donnie Garvin and Mrs. Willie Meacon, both of Laurel, Miss., assisting.

The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and baby's breath. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bells.

The bride's mother wore an apricot gown of worsted silk and a corsage of apricot rose buds.

The groom's mother wore a gown of yellow polyester crepe with an empire waist and matching jacket. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The mothers of the bride and groom each lit a candle at the altar as they were ushered in. At the close of the ceremony, the bride and groom lit a single candle signifying the beginning of their new life together.

Council Meeting Hosted

The Beta Sigma Phi Sorority first City Council meeting was hosted Sept. 24 by Mu Upsilon Chapter at the home of Carol Zumpt at 1817 S. E. Ave. J.

An executive board meeting was conducted by President Mae Frances Burke before the regular meeting. Plans for the 1974-75 year were discussed by members.

Mae Frances reported Beta Xi Chapter became an Exemplar Chapter this month, changing their name to Xi Iota Alpha no. 464. Everyone congratulated the chapter members of the new Exemplar Chapter.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the host chapter. The October City Council meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Janis Fliehs.

There are no mere public-spirited citizens in the community than the management of this firm and in making this Business Review of the area it is natural to compliment them and to direct your attention to this business as one of the most reliable establishment which has added to the development and progress of this part of the state.

John W. Holley Roofing - Airport Paint and Body Shop

John & Jean Holley - Owners

A good roof is an all important factor in the protection of your building investment. A firm well known for the installation and maintenance of all types of roofs is John W. Holley Roofing Contractors in Lake Worth at 4444 Lake Worth Rd., phone 965-5379.

Your roof represents only about 3 per cent of your building investment, it is said. Yet, its value is in fact, of all proportion to its cost, for a roof acts as a guardian for your building and all its contents.

Just as you take inventory of your possessions periodically so you should check up on your roof. Let these roof specialists examine your roof. They may find that it is in good condition, ready for many years of service. They may find defects that can easily be remedied, but which if neglected might soon dangerously weaken your roof. Or again they may discover that your roof is so badly worn that it needs a new covering to protect it and prevent a costly leak.

This 1974 Review edition and its compilers are pleased to recommend John W. Holley Roofing Contractors to our readers as one firm who does the job right at an honest price!

TALLAHASSEE-The sport of fishing affords a recreational outlet for hundreds of thousands of our citizens and can be enjoyed twenty-four hours a day on a year-round basis in Florida.

Also, Florida has the nation's leading fresh water fishing opportunities, and has varied and extensive salt water angling opportunities.

Fishing is a sport enjoyed by people of all ages. Equipment, requirements are optional depending on the whims of the fishermen, however, even minimal tackle will suffice, especially in the hands of a patient angler.

Fishing is a valuable resource to Florida and as such it deserves close attention of all concerned, since every one—whether or not he uses this recreational potential—benefits from fishing.

Admittedly, the fishermen benefits most from a fishing trip. To many sportsmen, nothing can surpass the thrill of a bass rising to a lure, or the scrappy fight of a trophy panfish. Particularly, fresh water fishing serves to provide countless hours of tip-top recreation for our residents, and is one of the chief tourist attractions in a state filled with a multitude of such.

Yet, many others benefit also. The fish camp operator benefits from services rendered to fishermen. The manufacturers of fishing tackle, boats and outdoor motors benefit. The sporting goods dealer benefits when he sells these items, as does the grocer when he sells food for the fishing trip, or the gasoline station when it sells gasoline and bait, and the motel owner when he provides lodging for the fishermen away from home.

Dollars spent by fishermen touch every hand in the community. Everyone benefits directly or indirectly from fishing.

At present the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission is putting forth more than usual effort to make fishermen aware of what fresh water fishing opportunities are available in order to utilize this recreational facility fully.

There's a basic reason for our doing so. Much of the enjoyment derived from fishing comes from finding that particular place that best meets your needs. So, many people like to fish alone while others like to have people near, some come company while others enjoy the opportunity for contemplation.

Some use lakes and streams while others like to fish for bass and pickerel while others like to fish for panfish.

To find that place that best meets an individual's requirements can be a major obstacle at times to realizing a greatest enjoyment from a fishing trip.

Information is available for your area from Commission regional offices at Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach to help you find your particular fresh water fishing place, and, if you wish, the names and location of public fish management areas so that you may use them in pursuit of good fishing.

Florida boasts over thirty thousand named lakes, rivers and canals, and has forty-three managed and controlled public fresh water fishing areas. Each office also has a list of Commission-built public boat ramps where there is access to favorite fishing spots, and that there you will find this information helpful, and that these activities will enable many more of our citizens to enjoy the traditional past-time of fishing.

Meanwhile, as you fish, take note that the Commission is actively working to produce more fish and better fishing, and that these activities include greater access to fishing waters, increased control of rough fish, expanded pollution abatement, control of rough fish, increased stocking of striped bass for additional sport fishing, expanded fish hatchery facilities, and various other improvement projects.

With public awareness of what is being done and with your cooperation to make things happen, Florida can have more fish and better fishing for everyone.
